// We develop software with passion!

With our software, banks can execute transactions faster, airports can provide new digital services for their passengers, car manufacturers can produce more effectively, or telecommunications companies can roll out the new 5G technology smoothly. We offer individual development opportunities and exciting tasks in an international environment.

We are looking for a

// Backend Developer (m/f/d)

to strengthen our team in Timisoara. Shape the digital future with us!

Responsibilities:
- The technical design and implementation of database supported software solutions in the field of IT service and configuration management
- Development of features and design of sustainable architecture for novel software products
- Requirements analysis, specification and development in close collaboration with the Product Owner
- Continuous improvement of software design and development processes

Requirements:
- A successfully completed degree in information technology, mathematics, natural sciences, engineering or economics
- Extensive professional experience in developing and preparing concepts for complex web applications
- A solid knowledge of the Java with at least 5 years' professional experience
- SaaS cloud-based solutions knowledge is a plus
- A basic understanding of procedural models for software development Projects
- An ability to think analytically and conceptually, an ability to work as part of a team, initiative and creativity
- A very good knowledge of written and spoken English

Great Company Culture	Social Benefits	Training	Work Life Balance	Mobile Work	Team Events	Benefits Package

Take your next career step with us and apply via e-mail now, stating your salary requirements and possible start date. If you have any questions, please contact Erika Weber, Human Resources, career@fntsoftware.com, + 49 (0) 7961 9039-0

FNT software